

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN HISTORY PEDAGOGY

The Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy is designed for individuals who hold an M.A.Ed., M.Ed. or an M.A. in a field other than history who are interested in teaching Dual Enrollment or Early College history courses. The certificate requires 18 hours of graduate credit in History. Students may choose from two tracks: US or non-US. All courses, required and elective, are 600-level graduate seminars. Students may transfer up to 6 hours of credit at the 600 level from another graduate program to the Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy (with approval from department chair).

Students are required to submit an application to enroll in the certificate program. Applications are available through the Office of Graduate Admissions.

The Graduate History Pedagogy Certificate may be completed fully online.

Additional Admission Requirements:

1. M.A., M.A.Ed. or M.Ed. degree in area of study other than history.
2. Writing Sample: Minimum of four pages, preferably a research or scholarly essay or paper from previous classes. It may also be a sample of professional or creative writing.
3. The name of three professional references.
4. Transcripts from all colleges/universities attended during completion of B.A. or B.S. degree, as well as all graduate transcripts.

The Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy is designed for individuals who hold an M.A.Ed., M.Ed. or an M.A. in a field other than history who are interested in teaching Dual Enrollment or Early College history courses. The certificate requires 18 hours of graduate credit in History. Students may choose from two tracks: US or non-US. All courses, required and elective, are 600-level graduate seminars. Students may transfer up to 6 hours of credit at the 600 level from another graduate program to the Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy (with approval from department chair).

Students are required to submit an application to enroll in the certificate program. Applications are available through the Office of Graduate Admissions.

The Graduate History Pedagogy Certificate may be completed fully online.

Code	Title	Hours
Core Required Courses:
HI 603	Teaching Methodology	3
HI 605	Historiography and Methodology	3
Choose Track:		12
US History Track
Non US History Track
Total Hours		18

The Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy is designed for individuals who hold an M.A.Ed., M.Ed. or an M.A. in a field other than history who are interested in teaching Dual Enrollment or Early College history courses. The certificate requires 18 hours of graduate credit in History. Students may choose from two tracks: US or non-US. All courses, required and elective, are 600-level graduate seminars. Students may transfer up to 6 hours of credit at the 600 level from another graduate program to the Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy (with approval from department chair).

Students are required to submit an application to enroll in the certificate program. Applications are available through the Office of Graduate Admissions.

The Graduate History Pedagogy Certificate may be completed fully online.

US History Track

Code	Title	Hours
Required Courses:
HI 611	Seminar in U.S. History to 1877	3
HI 612	Seminar in U.S. History Since 1877	3
6 additional hours at the 600 level <sup>1</sup>		6
Total Hours		12

<sup>1</sup> HI 611 and HI 612 may be repeated for credit.

The Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy is designed for individuals who hold an M.A.Ed., M.Ed. or an M.A. in a field other than history who are interested in teaching Dual Enrollment or Early College history courses. The certificate requires 18 hours of graduate credit in History. Students may choose from two tracks: US or non-US. All courses, required and elective, are 600-level graduate seminars. Students may transfer up to 6 hours of credit at the 600 level from another graduate program to the Graduate Certificate in History Pedagogy (with approval from department chair).

Students are required to submit an application to enroll in the certificate program. Applications are available through the Office of Graduate Admissions.

The Graduate History Pedagogy Certificate may be completed fully online.

Non US History Track

Code	Title	Hours
Required Courses:
HI 621	Seminar in World History to 1815	3
HI 622	Seminar in World History Since 1815	3
6 additional hours at the 600 level <sup>1</sup>		6
Total Hours		12

<sup>1</sup> HI 621 and HI 622 may be repeated for credit.